

Amateur Actors at Rockville.

The Washington Amateur Dramatic Dramatic Company played to a large audience at the Rockville Opera House on Friday evening, presenting "On an Island," "My Wife's Dentist," and "Petticoat Perfidy," three clever farces, well adapted to the abilities of the performers. Mr. Robert W. Test received quite an ovation. The other members of the company, all of whom conducted themselves very creditably, are Misses Grace Ross, Gertrude Holden, Fanny Appleby, Helen Biddis, and Blanche Shafer, and Messrs. Morgan W. Shuster, Joseph Wall, Howard Burbank, Henry Donnally, and Luther Reichelderfer.
